

I think it's insane that radio cannot play songs that say "hell" in them. Are you kidding? I heard a great old song by Barbra Streisand the other day called Nobody Makes a Pass at me in which she sang, "no one knocks on my front door, what do they think my knockers are for?" This is now consiered INDECENT? I suppose you'd have us all listening to Yes Jesus Loves Me if you had your way. I can't wait until a Democrat runs this country. Jerks.
